NEWS LETTER FROM STATE DEPARTMENTS

COLUMBUS, OHIO—The legislature after adjourning last Saturday will reconvene next Tuesday when all bills will be signed and final adjournment will be made not to convene again unless called into special session by the Governor. A record for speed and results accomplished has been made by the members of the eighty-eighth General Assembly and all administration measures have been passed. Those bills acted upon favorably will go to the Governor for his signature after which they will be filed with the Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown, who is custodian of the laws and resolutions passed by the General Assembly. Laws relating to taxation become effective immediately when filed and all others become effective 90 days after the filing date.

Hon. D. W. Davis, ex-Governor of Idaho, was a visitor at the State House several days ago and called on Governor Myers Y. Cooper, Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown and other elective state officials. Governor Davis made friends with a number of them while campaigning in Ohio in 1926 and again last fall. He has been a successful banker, farmer and breeder of fancy cattle. He established the first budget system for Idaho, built the two wings to the State Capitol and placed his state government on a sound financial basis. He expects to return in the near future when he can make a more extended visit.

Hon. A. P. Sandles of Ottawa, Putnam county, Democrat has been named a member of the civil service commission to succeed Rollin Swisher of this city. The appointment is more than pleasing to the legion of "Put" friends all over the state. Governor Cooper and the general Ottawain have been the warmest of friends for many years and the latter was one of the original "Coopers" for Governor. Sandles while serving as president of the Ohio Fair Circuit, a position which he held during the life of that organization, and which he assisted in establishing, was a Senator from 1921 to 1923.

Emmons of New Rochester, Columbiana county, has also been appointed as civil service commissioner by Governor Cooper and will succeed himself, his term expiring August 30, 1931.

When the new state office building is completed—if that is ever brought about—the seventy-five different state offices, departments and divisions of government, now scattered indiscriminately over the Capitol City, would be all centrally located, with an underground passageway from the Capitol. At the present time 33 are located in the State House and Annex, eight in the Wyandotte building, six in the Hartman and the remainder scattered over the entire city, from Ohio State University campus, south, east and west. A directory of the state offices will be published in the new roster to be issued by Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown some time in July.

There is an urge for a terminal bus station in this city as present facilities for handling passenger motor coaches are inadequate. With buses leaving every few minutes from a central point traffic is congested and passengers are greatly inconvenienced by being compelled to wait in stuffy stations and sometimes wade through muddy pools in yards where the buses are operated. With the numerous lines operating in and out of the Capitol City the new terminal station would greatly facilitate the handling of the business.

Hotels, restaurants, barber shops and tradesmen in general will miss the legislative sessions. Not only the members themselves patronize these places but there is also the influx of thousands who are interested in legislation or who have business with the members of the General Assembly and the hundreds who come from out of town daily to witness the law makers in action and learn just how the laws are placed upon the statute books. Present members hold office until midnight December 31, 1929.

Dog Race Track For Fairfield

A company is reported as having purchased a thirty acre tract of land in the village of Fairfield and will start the erection at once of a dog racing plant. The proposition has the approval of the village authorities and legislation has been started by the council. The venture will bring a revenue of $2000 a day to the village during the racing season. This money will be used to pay off a $25,000 bonded debt on the new waterworks system.

LAW MAKERS CONCLUDE WORK AND ADJOURN

The state legislature recessed Saturday until April 15, when final action will be taken on the adjournment but no new bills can be introduced. It may be that some measure subject to veto by Governor Cooper will be considered at the next session but this is doubtful. Of the seven bills introduced only 224 were passed including the repeal of the law against the sale of liquor.

The legislative program endorsed by Governor Cooper was passed without any trouble. The Pence law was repealed as desired by the Governor. Another constitutional amendment will be submitted the voters in Ohio this fall to pave the way for classification of property for taxation.

Although the state was to have no additional taxes, under a campaign promise the legislature approved a new $5,000,000 state office building and a state tax will be added to all tax bills next December to pay for the new home for Ohio's numerous boards and commissions. Motorists will within three months get to pay an additional gasoline tax of one cent making the total tax four cents a gallon instead of three as at present. When this tax was proposed it was advocated that such was necessary for improvement of township roads in Ohio. Machinery interests backed the measure as well as certain farm organizations. When the bill was finally passed the townships got recognition and will get but a small fraction of the money and then the township trustees will not have all the say where it is to go.

The state will take 60 per cent of this extra tax for main highways; counties get 20 per cent; municipalities 10 per cent based on the number of automobiles and trucks and the township what is left, ten per cent. It is estimated that each township will get about enough to build one mile of good road. The gasoline tax in the state at four cents a gallon is estimated at $34,000,000 each year and still the rural sections will get little relief. It is estimated that more than fifty per cent of the gasoline used in the state is used for commercial purposes, such as trucking and delivery which is added to the cost of goods sold as freight rates. There was once a theory that joy riders would pay the big end of the gasoline tax but things have changed and this cost is handed back to the consumer of what he eats and wears in urban as well as rural centers.

Among the bills that died with the passing of the legislature were the old age pension; barber's license; Klan Bible bill; automobile driver's license bill; tax on chain stores; hunter's license tag. The death of two prominent bills was the so-called rural police law which Governor Cooper opposed and the anti-malt bill backed by the W. C. T. U. A peculiar situation developed over this bill which was to prohibit the sale of malt for home beer making. The Anti-Saloon League opposed the measure as charged by a member of the legislature who is a member of the W. C. T. U. Churches were asked to oppose the sale of malt for illegal purposes by the W. C. T. U. As for the rural police bill a breach developed between Supt. Moore and Attorney Earhart of the League which cost Earhart his job. The latter openly charged the bill was drawn to favor big bootleggers in the cities. The bill was buried by the committee in charge and Earhart was dropped from the Anti-Saloon League payroll.

Several spots of minor bills failed to get out of the various committees and will be heard of no more until another session.

With classification of property just around the corner and additional tax being levied on property in the state as well as appropriations for two years amounting to nearly 120 million dollars, there is little hope of seeing the cost of state government reduced. Those who have been in touch with the situation see an additional state tax probably within the next two years.

The Junior Class of the High School will stage the three act comedy "Arnold Goes Into Business" in the Opera House Thursday, April 18. The story is from a mid-west town. Arnold Miller belonged to the best family in town but he had a weak heart. His dotting aunt and all his friends were waiting for him to quietly pass on when he surprised them all by getting married. His wife had her own idea of things and she decided that her husband wasn't going to die—she would make a man of him and she did. Her method forms a very pleasant comedy of real American life.

SCHOOL NEWS

Chapel Talk
Monday morning we had the privilege of hearing Dr. McChesney speak on why we are in school and what we should get from our education. He likened the pupils to three kinds of wires: The solid wires, which represented those who lack mental ability; the hot wires, those who are too interested in outside activities; and the service wires, those who are the real students.

He told us that he considered education an art and that each of the three letters of the word "art" stood for something that we must be able to do in order to take advantage of our educational opportunities. "A" was for attention, "R" was for retention, and "T" was for telling. In closing he gave us this little maxim, "Think a thought and sow an act. Sow an act and reap a character. Reap a character and you have a destiny."

Come to the Opera House on April 18 and find out how Victor Foxe Zeno, feex ze eye, yes, and feex ze leg that wiggles.

Scholarship Contest
Cedarville High School was fortunate in having four out of five students who won places at Xenia, win at Oxford. They in turn went to Columbus to compete in the State Contest. At Miami, Marion Hostetter won first and Ruth West, third in American Literature. Jane West came through first in English II and Carma Hostetter took third in English I. Although none of our representatives won places at Columbus they made high class scores and we are proud of them.

Recesses Letter
Reuben Walker who was unable to attend the Athletic Banquet was presented his football letter by Coach Rolfe in chapel Monday. Reuben was requested to make a speech so he made some very appropriate remarks.

Coach Presented Basketball
Coach Rolfe was completely surprised when Regina Smith, in behalf of the teams of '28-'29 presented him a gold watch charm in form of a basketball. He was at first speechless but soon found words to express his deep appreciation.

The Pitkin Ball Game

The annual game of the Greene County boys' and girls' 4-H clubs was played in two years, nor did she. We were defeated 6-5, a much better score than we expected.

Cedarville cut-hit Fitchin, having no scruple finding the offering of Pitkin's hurler. But foolishness, running and the lack of practice cut our score down to 5 runs. Fitchin took advantage of errors to make their score having fanned 13 batters in but was handicapped by poor pegging and bad judgment by his fielders team mates.

The game for the girls scheduled with Bryan High School Tuesday had to be canceled because of the rain.

Mrs. W. O. Maddux Called By Death

Mrs. Mary A. Maddux, 69, wife of W. O. Maddux, died Friday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock as the result of a stroke of paralysis which she suffered last Tuesday. She had been in her usual health up to the time of the stroke but never regained consciousness following the attack.

Mrs. Maddux was born in Selma, O., September 20, 1859, and after her marriage, moved to Xenia with her husband where they lived for about thirty-five years, where Mr. Maddux was in the coal business. Since 1915 they have resided on a farm near Cedarville, where they lived until a few weeks ago when they held a sale and moved to town.

Mrs. Maddux leaves beside her husband, one daughter Mrs. Orin Arbogast of Chicago and one stepson, Fred W. Maddux of Spokane, Wash. Two sisters also survive, Mrs. Nettie Myers of Jamestown and Miss Anna Cramp-ton, Xenia.

The deceased was a member of the M. E. Church of Cedarville. Funeral services were held at 3 o'clock with burial in North Cemetery, Cedarville. The service was in charge of Rev. Gunnet, her pastor.

Arm Injured Monday At Paper Mill

Donald Taylor, employee at the Hagar Straw Board & Paper Company plant, received a crushed left arm while on duty Monday. His arm was drawn between the rolls but he had presence of mind and time enough to withdraw it but not until his head had hung into the machine with force enough to break the skin. The accident was said to be similar to the one a number of years ago that cost the life of George Roan, who was superintendent of the mill at the time. Mr. Taylor's arm was not broken but was badly bruised and will likely keep him out of employment for some time.

Persons who do not receive blanks are advised they may get them from either the county auditor's office or the assessor in their district.

The auditor's office will remain open daily from 8 A. M. until 4:30 P. M. to assist tax-payers in making out their returns.

CHICKEN THIEF IS CONVICTED

Andrew Fleming of Washington C. H., was convicted twice in Common Pleas Court Wednesday for burglary and larceny in connection with the theft of chickens near here, March 15. Fleming was found guilty this morning of stealing 17 chickens, valued at $26.50 from the farm of Curry McElroy, Columbus pike.

During the afternoon the same jury convicted him of the theft of chickens worth $12.70 from Glen F. Cline, Columbus pike. Clifford Tipton, Fleming's brother-in-law, who is charged with implication in the same theft, is still in jail. Tipton, who is under indictment, said he was 15 years old when he was arrested, and was held for examination by juvenile court, where it was learned he was nearer 23. He was sent back to jail awaiting the next session of the grand jury.

Fleming, who said he was 18, has already been indicted. It was learned afterward that he had also misrepresented his age, and is about 25.

WHAT WILL POSTMASTER GENERAL DO ON 'FRANKING'?

Postmaster General Walter Brown comes from Ohio and of course we as citizens of the state or all interested in his administration of that branch of the government. Just at present Mr. Brown is investigating the "franking" rights of congressmen and government departments. For years the press of the country had pointed at this unjust privilege granted to congressmen who have abused that right beyond any doubt.

Sending "franked" mail costs the government several million dollars each year and the public gets little or no benefit from it. Congressmen send furniture, automobile tires, the family laundry, in fact what ever can be sent through the mail goes free for those who hold this postal right.

Plainly speaking the "frank" is a species of graft that has government sanction because those who attempt to justify it and make it legal are the only persons that can use it. Free matter sent by congressmen costs everybody something for the railroads get just as much for hauling "franked" mail as first class mail paid for by the individual citizen. Postmaster General Brown has a big undertaking on his hands when he goes to meddling with the business of the congressmen.

BEFRIENDING THE BIRDS

Fourteen years ago the Farm Journal set aside the second Friday of April—this year the 12th—as "Bird Day." The magazine founded at the same time a club which now numbers some 916,000 youthful members. Millions of American children will observe the day this year. But most of them are on farms and in the rural districts. City folks of all ages should cooperate in giving a thought to the birds.

The growth of the cities has pushed the birds back. Where they have not already deserted city backyards for fairer country they should be encouraged to stay. Civilization has made inroads on the ranks of the wild songbirds and insect-eaters which it is to man's advantage to protect. Laws have been invoked in many states to this end, but they must be supported by individual cooperation if they are to be effective. Every community should have its bird sanctuary, and the homeowner should help by planting trees, shrubs and vines that will attract birds and provide them with feeding facilities. The winter birds need shelter and food which man is best able to furnish them, but natural plant growth is the ideal summer refuge for the feathered folks.

As yet there is no national bird day, but the selection of the agricultural magazine could well stand for that purpose. It comes appropriately when most of the migrating birds have returned after the winter absence and are seeking desirable spring and summer quarters, which man can do much to provide.

A STIR IN WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Down in Washington, D. C., there is a new topic for conversation outside of the prohibition enforcement department playing tag with dry voting congressmen who have liquor on them. The subject under discussion may or may not interest the average citizen but he or she should be because the standing of Vice President Curtis is in question due to the fact that he is a widower and Washington society demands a hostess.

The Vice President desires to have at his side his sister, Mrs. Gann, who has a husband, Mr. Albert Gann. According to society rules there is some question whether Mrs. Gann can be admitted in the ranks of the elite above the wives of foreign diplomats. The gravest question is where to put the husband of the Vice President's hostess, Albert.

Meantime authorities are being searched for a precedent to keep the Vice President satisfied and yet take care of the foreign nobility that graces most of Washington's social events. The desires of the Vice President to have at his side may be recognized at the table and they may be well up towards the starting line for the artichokes and the strawberries. When Albert Gann takes his seat, if he gets by the doorkeeper, who is not supposed to admit one lady with two escorts, it may be near the service table where the green onions and radishes repose until serving time.

If the press reports are correct and the foreign legations are permitted to receive their liquor by the truck load for state occasions where the observance of society rules come first, we imagine after two or three servings of champagne the rules will be laid on the shelf in the butler's pantry.

Washington society must have its moments and formality must be recognized even though other things must suffer the attention of the nation's leaders. At best no dry voting congressmen should have to carry a bottle on his hip to a foreign legation party. What he carried home, unless disorderly, at best could only cost him $5 and the costs in the case for plain intoxication, a term that may not be in the social dictionary.

Mid-Week Service, Wednesday night at 7:30 P. M.

Reg. W. P. Harriman, and Mr. McMillan of the local Presbyterian Church, and Mr. Linn Wilson of the Clifton Presbyterian church attended the Spring meeting of the Dayton Presbytery which was held at the Memorial Church of Oxford, Ohio, on Monday and Tuesday. This was a splendid meeting, despite the inclemency of the weather. The delegates were entertained at dinner and a reception following, at the Western College for women. They also enjoyed the chapel service in that institution where four hundred young women were in attendance. One of the important items of business transacted was a unanimous vote to cooperate with the Synod of Ohio in a Synod or State wide program of Evangelism during the months of October and November.

The annual meeting of the congregation was held on Tuesday evening at eight o'clock. The reports of the various Treasurers showed the church to be in splendid condition financially.

with a balance for the current year. The following officers were elected: Elders to increase the number of the session—Messrs. Charles Steele, S. C. Wright and Alvin Hostettler. Trustees—Messrs. E. A. Murdock, Melvin McMillan and Charles Stormont.

Officers of the Congregation: Chairman, Mr. Raymond Williamson; Vice Chairman, Mr. Wilbur Conley; Secretary, Miss Annabelle Murdock; Current Expense Treas., Mr. Walter Huff; Benevolence Treasurer, Dr. F. A. Jurkat. The Committee on raising funds for repairs and the installation of a Pipe Organ reported that a total of $10,000.00 had been pledged. The same Committee consisting of Walter C. Huff, Chairman; Raymond Williamson, Sec'y.; Mr. E. L. Stormont, Treas.; R. A. Murdock, S. C. Wright, William Conley, Melvin McMillan, Clayton McMillan, were continued with full power to act in the proposed work. A committee of ladies to represent the Broadcasters, and the Mizpah Bible classes, and the Women's Missionary Society will be chosen by the ladies of the church to cooperate with the Committee already named.

The Manse will be open for social fellowship to the members of the College Class and their friends on Friday night of this week. A large attendance is expected.

"Indians" Wrongly Named
Our Red Indians were so called by error. They were called Indians because the first discoverers of North America thought they had found the northwest passage to India, and so called the inhabitants Indians. Similarly the islands known as the West Indies were so named because of the belief that they were part of India.

Friends were given a surprise Wednesday when it became known that a quiet wedding had taken place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Creswell, when their only daughter, Alberta, became the bride of Mr. Clayton H. Lyle of Marianna, Ark.

Only a few relatives and friends witnessed the single ring ceremony which was performed at 2:30 by Rev. W. P. Harriman, D. D. The bride and groom left immediately after the ceremony for their home near Marianna where the latter is an extensive cotton farmer.

The bride was married in her going away costume, "Show-bout" ensemble. She carried a beautiful brides bouquet of yellow roses and lavender sweet peas tied with yellow ribbon.

The bride is a graduate of Cedarville College and has a wide circle of friends who extend congratulations.

A STATEMENT TO THE FARMERS OF GREENE CO.

Several months ago we announced an entirely new change in our policies. We believed that the people of Greene Co. would be willing to pay cash for their GASOLINE and OIL if they could buy at greatly reduced prices. So we placed our business on a strictly CASH basis. Now our beliefs have been justified and our Gasoline and Oil trade has grown to the place where it was necessary to acquire new property in order to take care of the tremendous volume of business that we have been doing.

So we are announcing the purchase of the Dewine Milling Co.'s plant. This plant is to be rebuilt and will be used by us for the exclusive sales of HIGH GRADE MOTOR OILS at greatly reduced prices.

We urge every farmer to see us before buying their oil.

Remember we
BUY FOR CASH
SELL FOR CASH
Hence we sell at greatly reduced prices.

Lesson for April 14 HEZEKIAH LEADS HIS PEOPLE BACK TO GOD

LESSON TEXT—II Chronicles 30:1-27.
GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord your God is gracious and merciful.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Helping Others to Know God.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Helping Others to Know God.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Leader Whom Others Follow.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Influence of a Good Ruler.

1. Hezekiah Proclaims a Passover (vv. 1-12).
The way for a sinning and divided people to get back to God and be united is around the crucified Lord. The Passover was a memorial of the nation's deliverance through the shedding of the blood of the sacrificial lamb.

2. The invitation was representative of the nation (v. 2). The king took counsel with the princes and the congregation to show that the proclamation was the expression of the nation's desire.

3. The time was unusual (vv. 2-4). There was not sufficient time to sanctify the people, nor to gather them together at the regular time, so they resolved instead of postponing it for a year to hold it on the fourteenth day of the second month. This liberty had been granted before in an emergency (Num. 9:8-13).

4. The scope of the invitation (vv. 5-9). Included all of both nations who would come to keep the Passover to the Lord God of Israel. "Israel" is now used to include both kingdoms. The effort was intended to win back the nation which had seceded. The messengers were authorized to supplement the proclamation with urgent exhortation to restore a united nation. This urgent invitation was tactfully put as follows:

(1) It touched ancestral memories—

"Turn again unto the Lord God of Abraham, Isaac and Israel" (v. 9).
(2) Recalled bitter experience—"Be not like your fathers and brethren, who trespassed against the Lord God, and were given up to desolation, as ye see" (v. 7).

(3) Aroused yearning for captive kinsfolk—"Your brethren and children shall find compassion before their captives" (v. 9).

(4) Stirred instinct of self-preservation—"So that they shall come again unto this land" (v. 9).

(5) Pledged forgiveness (v. 9).
4. Israel's reception of the invitation (vv. 10-12).

This invitation in Israel met with a mingled reception.

(1) Some mocked. The urgent and sincere invitation only excited opposition and ridicule. (2) Some with humble hearts came to Jerusalem.

10. Judah-God gave them new heart to accept the summons to unite in the Lord around the great Passover.

11. The Passover kept (vv. 13-27).
1. Altars removed (vv. 13, 14).
In the time of Ahaz (28:24) these heathen altars were erected in Jerusalem. Before there could be worship of the true God all traces of idolatry must be removed. This voluntary act of the people showed a right spirit.

2. The Passover killed (v. 15). The zeal of the people was shown in their going forward with the service, though the priests were not ready for their task.

3. The priests and Levites ashamed (vv. 15-20).
The zeal of the people put to shame the priests and Levites, stimulating them to perform their duties according to the law as given by Moses. The Levites then took charge of the killing of the Passover. Though many of the people were ceremonially unprepared to take part in the most sacred service, they were accepted as worshippers through the intercession of Hezekiah. God accepted the purpose of heart rather than the letter of the law.

4. The praise of glad hearts (vv. 21, 22).
They continued seven days with gladness: (1) The Levites and priests sang God's praise daily with loud instruments (v. 21); (2) Hezekiah spoke comforting words to the Levites (v. 22). He commended them and their teaching of the knowledge of God.

(3) They made confession of their sins to God (v. 22).
5. The Passover prolonged seven days (vv. 23-27).
The king's object in prolonging the feast was to make as lasting an impression as possible, so as to result in the thorough conversion of their souls to God.

Keeping Eyes on God
So long as I can keep my eyes on God all is well, but if I lose sight of Him I am troubled indeed.—Margaret Mary Hallahan.

Wise Work
Wise work is briefly work with God; foolish work is work against God.—Ruskin.

Success is doing your level best; God never did more.

Soybeans Rated As Cash Crop Now

Two Concerns Seeking Contract For Ohio Acreage To Be Planted This Year

Soybeans are taking on, for the Ohio farmer, a new importance, and a new meaning. This year they are crashing into the cash crop class, with two big concerns bidding for acreage and offering to contract in advance for the soybeans raised on that acreage.

Uses already involved, and new uses being discovered, for the beans, are the basis of the demand for them. Soybeans as stock feed, and particularly as an emergency hay crop, have been gaining popularity in Ohio for the past 10 years, but they have not been regarded heretofore as a cash crop.

Now, in the opinion of Dr. J. B. Park, head of the crops department of the Ohio State University, soybeans, successfully compete with oats as a cash crop on the farm, and even to a limited extent, with wheat and corn. Two milling companies, one with a plant in Ohio, the other an Illinois concern, now have representatives in western Ohio seeking to sign up owners of acreage which will be planted to soybeans this year. The capacity of the plants is sufficient to handle the product of more acres than are likely to be contracted this year, in Dr. Park's opinion.

Soybeans have several cultural advantages. They will grow in a soil more acid than is tolerated by some of the other legumes; they can be planted fairly late in the season and yet mature a crop; the straw left after the beans are threshed out is highly palatable to stock, and has practically the same feed value as timothy hay. As a soil improving crop the soybean has some value, even when the plants are harvested, although their value in this respect is not so great as that of the clovers, which store a greater percentage of the nitrogen extracted from the air, in the roots. Most of the nitrogen fixed by the soybeans is stored in the beans and in the stems and leaves of the plants.

Soybeans are the source of oil which has many uses. The lowest grade of the product goes into the manufacture of soap. Millions of pounds of soybean oil are imported annually for use as a substitute for linseed oil and in a mixture with linseed oil, in the manufacture of paints. The paint industry is able to use a great deal more soybean oil than is produced or is likely to be produced, in this country. From the finer grades of the oil products are made for human consumption.

The "leek" remaining after the oil is extracted is used largely in the manufacture of high protein food for dairy cows, for hogs and for poultry. It also has other uses which make it valuable.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

FROM NEWS COLUMNS

IF YOU read the papers carefully you have learned that down in New Mexico they crucified two persons some time ago as a part of a religious rite, that over in Spain they stabbed an old woman to death because the people in her village believed that she was a witch; that in one state a man killed and buried a dozen or more negroes because they did not know how to think they should; that a young man killed and robbed his aged grandmother; that in China there are millions of people, dying of starvation.

Those are just a few of the things that are considered important enough to put on the first pages of the country's greatest papers for your reading and comment.

As you read these items you must have asked yourself two or three questions.

You must have said, "Ought we to call ourselves civilized when such things happen? Are we really progressing toward perfection or are we going backward toward savagery?"

There is a theory, which of course has not been proved, that the human race develops in waves.

There is a great surge toward the ideal man and then that is followed with a retrogression toward the primitive cave man with his crude, unbridled passions, his lack of culture and his absence of regard for his fellows.

Which way are we headed now? Are we on the up grade or have we reached the peak and begun the descent?

Killing an aged woman for witchery certainly is not advancing. Crucifying a human being, even as a part of a religious rite, is not an evidence of civilization.

Killing a man because he does not labor to suit you, or killing him for any reason at all, is not an index of a higher culture or an increasing moral sense.

To let millions of people starve in China, while there is plenty in America is not a very hearty application of the command to love your neighbor as yourself.

Whether the day will ever come when such a condition will exist the most of the world would doubt.

It is more than two thousand years since the command was given and we have not yet gone very far in making its observance universal.

If perchance you should be one who thinks we have read over again the list of news items recited in the first paragraph at the top of this column, and then see if you still hold to your opinion.

DISTANCE

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

I KNOW a house where two reside,
Two hearths a thousand miles divide.

And then I think of you today,
Perhaps a thousand miles away,
But when I think of you, my dear,
It seems that you are almost here.

This brings us near or takes us far;
Not where we are but how we are.
How long the miles would lengthen out
If I had any cause to doubt,
How many miles the miles would be
To you, if you had doubt of me.

Al, there are other women, too,
Who stay at home, as I must do,
I pity them, but more
The weary woman waiting for
Not someone's step but someone's sign,
Some word to make her day divine.

And I would rather have you there,
A thousand miles, and have you care,
Than have you here, your vows forgot,
Not caring whether here or not.

Distance is not some mile that parts;
It is the space between two hearts.
(© 1928, by Douglas Malloch.)

Roots Of Seedlings Must Be Kept Wet

Forest Trees Fresh From The Nursery Should Be "Heeled In" Until Planting

Farmers and others who, within the past two weeks have received several million forest tree seedlings from the state forestry nursery, must give the seedlings proper care until they are in the ground, if a fair percentage of them are to survive the transplanting, according to F. W. Dean, extension forester for the Ohio State University.

Keeping the roots of the trees moist until they are in the ground is the major precaution which must be taken, Dean says.

"The trees should be immediately unpacked from the boxes in which they are received, and 'heeled into' the ground," says Dean. "Heeling in" means digging a trench, laying the trees in it, and covering the roots with soil. If possible, the trees should be heeled directly to the area where they are to be planted. Roots must always be kept moist or wet. This applies particularly to evergreens. The receiver shouldn't throw the box of trees off the wagon in an exposed place and allow them to dry out.

"If it is not inconvenient to take the trees from the box and hell them into the ground, the box should be placed in a cellar and the roots of the trees kept moist there. Except when the trees are being planted, they should not be handled."

"If heeled in the trees can survive for a week or more before they are planted. However, the sooner they are planted after being received from the nursery, the better start they will get this season," says Dean.

Preliminary reports indicate that approximately four million cases of eggs were marketed last year through cooperative associations.

The potato plant yields best under a temperature of near 64 degrees Fahrenheit. Since the summer temperature in Ohio is far above this point, growers can do little to combat this condition except to adjust the time of planting.
